paris1-fudan double degree master in globalization and world economy

MASTER 2

RESEARCH

presentation

The faculties of the University of Paris 1 Pantheon-Sorbonne and Fudan University, which are among the leading Economics Departments in their respective countries, have joined their efforts to organize an innovative international Double-Degree Masters Program in Economics, specialized in Globalization and World Economy. This program aims to provide cutting-edge education in Economics at the master level. Since 2008 this program has trained both Chinese and non-Chinese economists who will become key experts in Euro-Chinese economic relations. Participants also benefit from diverse cultures and study environments as they will spend the 1st year in Paris and the 2nd year in Shanghai with classmates from around the world.
