SPECIALIZED TRACKS

In addition to the general program, PSME proposes three specialized tracks, with specialization courses in these fields.

The track Financial Economics includes specialization courses in finance (Financial Econometrics, Market Finance and derivatives, Computer Programming for Applied Financial Economics, Economics of Banking, etc). Students will obtain an equivalence with the Master 1 «Monnaie, Banque, Finance, Assurance» and get a direct access to the Master 2 «Financial Economics» (in English).

The track Development Economics include specialization courses in development (Development policies and Development Macroeconomics). Students will obtain an equivalence with the Master 1 «Economie du Développement» and get a direct access to the Master 2 «Development Economics» (in English) or «Economie du Développement Durable» (In English and French).

The track International Economics include specialization courses (European Integration, Applied Finance). Students will obtain an equivalence with the Master 1 «Economie Internationale / Economie de l'Environnement» and get a direct access to the Master 2 «Commerce International et Environnement» (in French with some courses in English).
